Fiction

I went to school
one day and a calculator was my teacher.

The calculator was good at helping me with my math, but it was not my teacher.

I went to school the next day and a pencil
was my teacher.

The pencil was good at helping me
with my writing, but it was not my teacher.

I went to school the next day and a notebook was my teacher.

The notebook was good at helping me keep track of my papers, but it was not my teacher.

I went to school the next day and my teacher was my teacher.

My teacher is good
at helping me with all of my school work. I was glad that she was back.
